Day 6: Arashiyama District & Okochi Sanso Garden $119/$129* (6 hours, departs in the morning)

Depart from Kyoto and enjoy a short transfer as you travel west to Arashiyama. This historic district boasts stunning natural beauty, and you'll take it all in on a guided sightseeing tour. Step inside the UNESCO-listed Tenryū-ji Temple, which was originally constructed in the 12th century and is considered one of Kyoto's most important sites. Meander through the striking Bamboo Grove, where soaring stalks flank a singular pathway. Finally, see the rolling, tree-covered hills that surround the Hozu River and the Togetsukyo Bridge. Spanning almost 170 feet, the beautiful wooden bridge sits against the backdrop of Arashiyama mountain. Afterwards, head to the beautiful Okochi Sanso Garden located in the foothills of Mt. Ogura and was the former home to Japanese period film star Okochi Denjiro until 1962. Upon arrival, you'll enter the Okochi villa's tea house to enjoy a matcha drink tasting followed by a leisurely stroll through the gardens. Wander along winding paths surrounded by lush greenery and amazing views of Kyoto, the Kozugaway river, and the Arashiyama mountains. Please note: The walk through the garden is roughly one mile. Travelers who wish to not participate in the garden walk may remain at the tea house or explore the gardens on their own.

Day 7: Nara: Traditions of Japan

$89/$99* (5.5 hours, departs in the afternoon, lunch included)

Join a local guide in Japan's former capital, Nara. Enjoy an included lunch, then set off on a walking tour to visit some of the city's UNESCO-listed monuments. Tour the Todaiji Temple, home to the world's largest bronze Buddha statue. Then, walk to Nara's Nakatanidou district for a chance to watch a master candy maker pound and pull mochi into its candy form. You'll also sample the rice-based sweet. Your walking tour continues with a visit to Kasuga-taisha. This Shinto shrine is famous for the thousands of bronze and stone lanterns that decorate the pathways on the grounds. Finally, stroll through the nearby Nara Park, home to hundreds of sacred wild deer. Later, make your way back to Kyoto. Please note: While the deer at Nara Park are friendly, they are still wild animals and should be treated with caution. If you have any allergies, please keep in mind that the deer live throughout the entire park.

Day 12: Mount Fuji & Aokigahara Forest

$95 (8 hours, departs in the morning)

Join your Tour Director and make your way to one of Japan's most breathtaking natural icons: the 12,388-foot-high Mount Fuji. En route to this UNESCO World Heritage site, stop in Aokigahara Forest, which boasts such lush foliage that it's earned the nickname the Sea of Trees. Take a two-hour hiking tour of the Fugaku Wine Cave and Narusawa Ice Cave with a local guide. Lava flows from Mount Fuji formed both caves, and the cool temperatures in the caves helped preserve silkworm cocoons used to make the traditional textile. You'll learn about the flora and fauna as you walk along the Tokai Nature Walking Path between the two caves. Then, head to the Fuji Subaru Line 5th Station, a popular basecamp located on the mountain's northern slopes. Use your free time to visit the basecamp's shops and restaurants, step inside the Komitake Shrine, and admire stunning panoramic views of nearby villages and the picturesque Fuji Five Lakes region. Please note: Wearing warm layers is recommended as temperatures at the mountain will be much lower than in Tokyo. This excursion requires advance reservation and must be booked at least 20 days prior to departure.

Extension excursion options

Day 15: Okinawa Blue Zone: Culinary Traditions & Dinner

$109 (2 hours, departs in the evening, dinner included)

Okinawa is one of the world's five Blue Zones. These areas are home to the highest percentage of centenarians, or people living to at least 100 years old. Today, you'll learn how the island became a Blue Zone. Meet up with a local guide at a restaurant serving traditional Okinawan cuisine. As you enjoy a meal of local specialties, your guide will describe why this particular diet is key to the islanders' healthy lifestyles. The dishes will feature bitter melon, seaweed, and raw fish—so be sure to come with an appetite for adventurous eating. You'll also learn about the local attitude toward life and how having a circle of supportive friends and a strong sense of purpose help Okinawans live a long life. This excursion requires advance reservation and must be booked at least 20 days prior to departure.

Day 16: Kerama Islands Sailing & Snorkeling

$125/$135* (8 hours, departs in the morning, lunch included)

Board a boat and sail away from the buzz of mainland Okinawa on today's excursion. Enjoy stunning sea views as you cruise to the islands of the Kerama archipelago, which are part of Kerama Shoto National Park. The blue waters and coral reefs surrounding the Kerama Islands make the area a sanctuary for a variety of sea life, including sea turtles, humpback whales, and tropical fish. Try to spot wildlife as you snorkel in the crystal-clear water, and then enjoy an included lunch on one of the island's white-sand beaches before sailing back to Naha. Please note: This excursion is weather-dependent.
