

Ireland: A Feast of Culinary Flavors & Local Traditions

12 days | 14 days with Galway extension

Does the mention of Irish cuisine bring Guinness and fish and chips to mind? Good news: This small group Food & Beer Tour is all that and so much more. Sure, the Emerald Isle has deep roots in tradition—why fix what isn't broken, right? But its emerging movement of farm- and sea-to-table dishes are truly worth writing home about. If you think all of Ireland's green is impressive, just wait until you meet the high-quality food and beverage producers, all with their own unique stories to tell.

Day 3: Guinness Experience & Irish Pub Dinner

$119/$129* (4 hours, departs in the evening, dinner included)

Take a self-guided tour of the Guinness Brewery this afternoon. Explore the many fun, colorful exhibits that highlight how the Irish brand has evolved since Arthur Guinness crafted the first beer in 1759. Then, head up to the top floor to sip a pint and soak in 360-degree views of Dublin. Afterward, travel by private motor coach to a local, historic pub for an evening filled with traditional food, beer or wine, and live Irish music. Talk about good craic!

Day 8: Sheep's Head Peninsula & Bantry House Tea

$129/$139* (8 hours, departs in the morning)

Some of Ireland's most stunning views, plenty of history, and a traditional afternoon tea? Yes, please. On this excursion alongside your Tour Director, you'll board a private motor coach and pass gravel boreens, grassy paths, and heathery hills as you travel along Sheep's Head Peninsula. Then, stop to explore the coastal area on foot with your Tour Director in the lead. Starting at the Cupán Tae tea shop, you'll stroll past rocky outcrops and Lough Akeen to the Sheep's Head Lighthouse at the tip of the headland. Take in views of Dunmanus Bay and Bantry Bay before enjoying free time for lunch in Bantry. Then, step inside Bantry House and Garden, a stately home situated on the Wild Atlantic Way. You'll explore the beautifully manicured gardens before sitting down for afternoon tea with freshly made cakes, sandwiches, and a glass of Prosecco.

Extension excursion options

Day 13: Connemara, Kylemore Abbey & Oyster

Tasting

$125/$135* (9 hours, departs in the morning)

Connemara is one of the most beautiful, unspoiled places in Ireland, and you'll get an up-close look at all the region's beauty on this excursion. Set out to marvel at the area's second-to-none scenery and historic sites, like Kylemore Abbey, a Benedictine convent founded in 1920 on the grounds of Kylemore Castle. Here, you'll have time to explore the abbey's interior and walled Victorian gardens. After free time for lunch on your own, transfer to Connemara's coast to join a local guide at an oyster farm. You'll learn how the oysters are grown and harvested over a three-year period before enjoying a tasting of fresh oysters pulled from the waters of Ballinakill Bay. As you travel through Connemara National Park on your way back to Galway, make photo stops in the Inagh Valley and Maam Cross.
