Day 3: A Naples Tradition: Neapolitan Pizza

$79/$89* (3 hours, departs in the afternoon)

Visit one of Naples' most famous pizzerias for a demonstration of the local art of pizza making—and a tasting of the final product, of course. Pizza as we know it today was born in Neapolitan peasant towns in the late 18th century, nearly 200 years after explorers brought tomatoes back from the New World. Lucky for pizza lovers, the fruit finally made its way onto rustic, yeast-based flatbreads. The new creation drew tourists in to the poorer areas of the town just for a taste—and this tradition of quality and freshness still reigns supreme in Neapolitan kitchens.

Day 5: Iconic Sites & Towns of the Gargano Peninsula

$135/$145* (6 hours, departs in the morning, lunch included)

The spur on Italy's boot heel is home to the Gargano Peninsula, a true hidden gem. Here, you'll find steep, forested hills, charming villages, and a beautiful coastline trailing the turquoise Adriatic Sea. Today, head to picturesque Vieste and set off on a guided walking tour of this seaside town. Stroll along the Adriatic Sea to admire the famous cliffs and the church at Punta San Francesco, where you can view the wooden fishing platforms called trabucos. Visit a local restaurant in town and eat fresh seafood and other local specialties during an included lunch. After you've had your fill of food and wine, head to the Foresta Umbra nature reserve. End your day with a guided walk through this Forest of Shadows which takes you past the last remnants of Puglia's ancient forest where pine, oak, and beech trees thrive.

Day 7: Salento Peninsula Towns: Wine Tasting & Lunch

$125/$135* (8 hours, departs in the morning, lunch included)

Transfer from Lecce to the very tip of the Italian heel and spend time in the scenic seaside town of Santa Maria di Leuca. Take a guided walk and enjoy free time to view the Monumental Waterfall. The ancient Romans created this manmade, rocky slope out of stone and it connects the land with the sea. You'll also have time to dip your toes in the water at the beach or visit the iconic Santa Maria lighthouse. Continue on to a local Salento village to visit an osteria for a family-style Pugliese lunch in a wine cellar. Of course, you'll sample some wine, too. Your tasting includes two red wines and one rosé from the region. Then, pass by beaches, coastal cliffs, quaint towns, olive groves, vineyards, and small whitewashed villages as you make your way to the scenic Adriatic port town of Otranto. A local guide will lead a short walking tour of the Old Town, harbor, and Romaneque Cathedral. You'll have time to explore at your leisure before heading back to Lecce.

Extension excursion options

Day 13: Amalfi Coast Boat Ride: Amalfi, Positano & Maiori

$99/$109* (8 hours, departs in the morning)

Italy is filled with plenty of iconic locales, but the Amalfi Coast holds a special place in many hearts. First, it's incredibly walkable (and beautiful!). But, the terraced cliffs and candy-colored villas clinging to the slopes really seal the deal. The scent of lemons growing in the groves and views of the sparkling sea certainly don't hurt either. See what we mean as you begin the day with a scenic boat ride along the coast to the town of Amalfi. A local guide will lead you through this historic town, which sits along dramatic, steep cliffsides. You'll also have the option to take a self-guided tour of the Duomo, the centerpiece of the town. Amalfi started making paper in the first half of the 12th century, so be sure to stop by a shop to pick up a paper souvenir. You can walk to the original paper mill that's still standing today! Then, hop aboard a public boat and cruise in style along the Amalfi Coast to the cliffside village of Positano. This quintessential Italian village is home to many charming restaurants and shops, and you'll have free time to explore the area. Be sure to stop by the beach and snap a photo of the colorful villas overlooking the Tyrrhenian Sea. Later, embark via private speedboat and continue along the Amalfi Coast to the seaside town of Maiori. Stop at a local pastry shop to sample delizia al limone, a traditional Amalfi Coast lemon cake. End the day with a bus trip back to your hotel. Please note: The speedboat transfer is weather-dependent and runs from March–October. When the speedboat ride is not possible, you'll travel back to the hotel by bus. On some departures, groups may visit Minori in place of Maiori.
